TrueFit Solutions, Inc. Launches New Portfolio & Project Management Practice

PITTSBURGH – October 3, 2008 TrueFit Solutions, Inc., announced today the launch of its newest practice focused on unlocking the potential of businesses to achieve excellence in project execution and the establishment of a channel partnership with AtTask Inc. (www.attask.com). TrueFit Solutions has helped hundreds of customers worldwide across manufacturing, distribution, healthcare, financial services, professional services and more gain the greatest benefits from their technology investments. Our deep project management expertise coupled with best in class technology from AtTask will allow TrueFit to provide a complete project management solution to our customers.

Our expertise in developing commercial software, building custom software solutions and network infrastructure solutions has led to the development of our OnPoint project management solution series geared towards providing businesses with a blend of project consulting services and best of breed portfolio and project management tools that increase project success and return on investment. Our ability to help our customers achieve the greatest return on investment from mission critical projects positions TrueFit as a world leader in project management execution.

“We have always been passionate about helping our customers achieve greater effectiveness through leading business process consulting and excellent software tools. Projects are where many of us live every day. We are excited to be offering another very practical solution that will help so many people gain more ground with less effort.” said Darrin Grove, CEO.

“This is a perfect fit for us. We have been successfully delivering complex business solutions for over 10 years. Now is the time to leverage that project management experience to help our customers reach their fullest potential.” said Phil Van Sickel, Truefit’s Principal Consultant leading the initiative.
